

The line graph below illustrates how the average total revenue of Real Estate changes over the period of 4 years, 2012 to 2016.

Overall, at the start of the period(2012), mean of revenue showed minimum whereas it surged to maximum in 2015 before seeing huge dip in next one year nearly to the figure similar to 2012.

At the beginning in 2012, average revenue of Real Estate is $2,161,152,045 which saw continuous rise till 2015 to reach the maximum average revenue of $2,859,046,231 and finally, falling out to $2,197,731,250 at the end of the period (2016).

Here, the Average revenue $2,511,715,663 is more than the median $2,088,012,500 indicating that the graph is right skewed or positively skewed. The range of $10,446,414,000 which is much higher than mean which is $2,511,715,663 which tells us about how unevenly the revenue has been generated from overall Real estate market. Standard deviation of the revenue shows $1,998,872,108 which is lower than mean and median.

<https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1JjVUZ4tULhBNJrgGwxF87XUkmRLFngtZ1rMNGtF>

How is the average total revenue of Real Estate differs between 2012 to 2016?

Row Labels	Average of TotalRevenue
2012	$2,161,152,045
2013	$2,380,750,115
2014	$2,640,286,692
2015	$2,859,046,231
2016	$2,197,731,250
Grand Total	$2,511,715,663

	Real Estate Total Revenue
Std	$1,998,872,108
Max	$10,855,810,000
Min	$409,396,000
Range	$10,446,414,000
Mean	$2,511,715,663
Median	$2,088,012,500